WOMAN MANAGER OF HOTELS COMING HERE

Winnipeg, Nov. 6.—Miss Jean Lindray, manager of three C.E.R. hotels in Algonquin Park—the Highland Inn, Nominigan Camp and Minnesing Camp—is in Winnipeg on her way to spend several weeks in Victoria, B. C. Questioned as to her opinion of how far women could rise in hotel management, she said that barring metropolitan hotels, she did not see why the right sort of a woman could not make a success of any hotel.

"The reason I except huge city hotels," she explained, "is that these usually cater largely to men, and men prefer to deal in business matters with men."

MONEY BACK INTO MANITOBA TREASURY

Norris Government Recovering Sums Illegally Paid by Roblin Government

Winnipeg, Nov. 6.—Gradually money is beginning to flow back into the Manitoba provincial treasury from the funds of overpaid contractors under the Roblin regime.

Besides $103,000 refunded from contracts on the new law courts building through the Mathers commission, Hammond & Rodway on Saturday paid back $1,308 on one contract. They had plumbing work on Agricultural college, Carter, Halls & Aldinger also refunded $3,574 on Saturday. They previously had refunded over $11,000 as excess payments under the Roblin government. These refunds will not affect the findings of the Galt commission, as it is the government's endeavor to learn how contractors were able to receive payment for work they never performed.

Thomas Kelly's contracts will be investigated beginning on Wednesday and a civil suit against Kelly & Sons to recover over $1,500,000 on the parliament buildings will open on Thursday.

GREAT MARKET FOR CANADIAN TIMBER

Europe Will Need Much After War, McMillan Will Inform Ottawa

Ottawa, Nov. 6.—Announcement is made that the report of H. R. McMillan, former chief forester of British Columbia, who was engaged by the department of trade and commerce as a special trade commissioner in connection with the lumber industry to visit the markets of Europe and the Far East, soon will be made public. Mr. McMillan, it is stated, will report that there will be an immense demand in Europe for lumber after the war and with proper organization Canada should receive a large share of the business.

It is pointed out in this connection that as a result of a conference between the various lumber manufacturing organizations of the United States and representatives of the United States government, a corps of experts will start for Europe early in November to consider the conditions of the lumber market likely to prevail during the reconstruction period. The expedition is being financed largely by the lumbermen themselves. Officials of the department of trade and commerce here think that Canadian lumbermen in all the provinces should get together and take concerted measures for the disposal of their products in the opening markets of the world.

BATTALION BEING FORMED OF MACLEANS

Unit is Recruiting Throughout Canada; Officer is Coming to Victoria

Winnipeg, Nov. 6.—Headed by Major C. G. Geggie, a party of officers passed through Winnipeg on Sunday for western points, where they will inaugurate a campaign to secure recruits for the 236th Kilted Battalion.

The unit has its headquarters at Fredericton, N. B., is commanded by Lieut.-Col. Percy A. Guthrie, and is recruiting throughout Canada. It is officered by men who have been on active service. They wear the Maclean of Duart tartan and their direct purpose is to recruit Macleans and their connections. Lieut.-Col. Guthrie at present is in Ontario addressing meetings of various Scottish societies. He will visit the Pacific coast shortly.

Capt. Percy F. Godenrath, a member of the party, proceeded from here to Victoria, B. C. Formerly he was commissioner of the Prince Rupert Board of Trade and a well known western journalist.

Support is being given the kilted unit by many wealthy men in the East. The day the party of officers left Montreal it was announced that E. W. Beatty, K.C., general counsel for the C.P.R., had donated $4,000 to equip an entire company of Macleans.

Rev. Dr. Maclean, of St. Paul's Presbyterian church, Victoria West, has intimated his intention of offering himself as chaplain to the 236th. In the Scottish community of Victoria the name Maclean is numerous, while descendants of the clan may be found in large numbers. It is not unlikely that the double sentiment of clan and country in the appeal may result in the rallying of many of these men to the standard.

The formation of the unit recalls a historic saying. The chieftain of the Macdonald clan, piqued at the boast of the Macleans of their superior antiquity as a tribe, said: "I suppose the Macleans were with Noah in the ark!" "The Macleans aye have a boat of their own," retorted the chieftain of that clan.

GAINS WERE EXTENDED ON CARSO PLATEAU

Italians Made Progress; Repulsed Five Attacks on Slopes of Cima Boeche

Rome, Nov. 6.—The following official report was issued last evening:

"In the Val Ariza, in the area of Monte Pasubio and on the Asiago plateau the enemy artillery yesterday was more active.

"In the Travinolo valley, after attempting a demonstrative action on Monte Col Bricon, enemy troops made five successive attacks against the so-called observatory on the slopes of Cima Boeche. They were all driven off with heavy losses and a counter-attack at the point of the bayonet eventually dispersed the enemy, who left numerous bodies, including those of three or four officers, on the ground.

"In the region to the east of Gorizia and on the Carso plateau our troops yesterday were engaged in consolidating themselves in spite of enemy artillery fire.

"By minor offensive operations we extended our occupation of the sector south of the Oppachiasella-Castagnivizza road, taking about 200 prisoners, mostly wounded and found on the field of battle."

AGED WOMAN

Run-Down and Feeble—Made Strong by Vinol

So many people in Boston and vicinity are in Mrs. Wickersham's condition we ask you to call at our store and get a bottle of Vinol, and if it fails to benefit we will return your money.

In her eighty-second year Mrs. John Wickersham, of Russellville, Pa., says: "I was in a run-down, feeble condition and had lost flesh. A neighbor asked me to try Vinol, and after taking two bottles my strength returned; I am gaining in flesh, it has built up my health and I am feeling fine for a woman of my age, so I get around and do my housework."

The reason Vinol was so successful in Mrs. Wickersham's case was because it contains beef and cod liver peptones, iron and manganese peptones and glycerophosphates, the very elements needed to build up a weakened run-down system and create strength.

Right here in Victoria we have seen such excellent results from Vinol that it is a pleasure to know it is doing so much good for old people in other parts of the country. D. E. Campbell, Druggist, Victoria; also at the best Druggists in all British Columbia towns.

INDUSTRIAL WORKERS OF THE WORLD BATTLED WITH CITIZENS' COMMITTEE AT EVERETT, WASH.; SEVEN ARE DEAD

The I. W. W. leaders especially resented this ordinance and had stored up ill feeling over the interruption of several of their meetings prior to the action of the council. This feeling generated into considerable bitterness and last Monday, when members of the citizens' committee escorted forty-one members of the I. W. W. to the city boundary and forcibly impressed upon them that their presence was no longer desired in Everett, they were loud in their threats of vengeance. Some of the deported agitators loudly proclaimed that they would return at the head of a sufficient number of their brethren to turn Everett upside down.

Every precaution was taken to offset any possible reprisals on the part of this lawless element, and when the notice from Seattle authorities was received on Friday of the proposed invasion, the citizens' committee made preparations.

Sheriff Informed.
On Sunday morning Sheriff McTae received word that two steamboat loads of these agitators were en route to Everett.

All of the members of the citizens' committee who could be reached were notified, and every regular deputy sheriff of Snohomish county working out of the Everett office also was on hand. They assembled at the Commercial Club and went to the dock by side streets, so as not to attract too much of a crowd, as it was Sunday, and fearing just what did occur; the desire was to prevent as many women and children as possible from being on the scene or in the vicinity.

Many members of the citizens' committee were unarmed as far as firearms were concerned and one of these, former Mayor Thomas Headley, who was wounded in the thigh, was extremely exasperated at his inability to shoot back when he felt the sting of the I. W. W. bullet below his hip.

"I don't mind being wounded in this case," declared the former mayor, "but it was damned tough not to be able to shoot back."

Sheriff Donald McTae, who is suffering from three gunshot wounds in his left leg, asserted that the first shot was fired by the man standing before the mast forward of the pilot house on the upper deck of the Veronia and that this man fired five shots before there was any reply.

Measures Taken.
Seattle, Nov. 6.—Governor Lister, who is in Seattle closing his campaign, was notified of the riot at Everett, and he immediately instructed Adjutant-General Thompson to leave for Everett and to notify him immediately what the conditions were.

Mayor Gill is in Edmonds, campaigning against the Initiative measures, and was found on the men by the officers on the dock. When the vessel was emptied of its human cargo only nine empty cartridge shells could be found by the army of searching officers. Behind a piano on the saloon deck was found a number of jack knives, razors and a quantity of cayenne pepper. One patrolman found a rusty iron spike, about 14 inches long, which he immediately classified as a black jack.

Great Crowds.
Huge crowds gathered at the entrance to the wharf building and were held in check by cordons of police. Later squads of national guard and naval militiamen, with fixed bayonets, appeared and assisted the police in herding the uninjured I. W. W.'s from the wharf.

Not Chartered.
Neither the Veronia nor the Carlita was chartered by the I. W. W. for the trip to Everett, according to Capt. Wyman, of the Veronia.

Capt. Wyman says that on Saturday a committee of I. W. W.'s appeared at the Colman dock and at that time said there would be several hundred I. W. W.'s going to Everett on Sunday at noon. Capt. Wyman told them how many his boat could carry and that he would take only that number. No contract was drawn up for the boat, however.

Beard Dead.
Everett, Nov. 6.—Jefferson F. Beard, former sheriff of Snohomish county and a deputy sheriff in the posse which battled with members of the I. W. W. at the Everett city wharf yesterday afternoon, died this morning, being the seventh man to lose his life on account of the attempt by members of the I. W. W. to enforce in Everett what they term "the right of free speech." Beard was shot in the chest.

Marched Off Gangplank.
The gangplank was run out. Armed officers stood at either side of the dock end. With hands aloft the I. W. W.'s marched ashore in single file. Police met them at the dock end of the gangplank and hurriedly ran hands over their clothes in a hasty search for weapons.

"What did you do with your gun? What did you do with your booze?" questioned the police. "Never had any," was the universal reply.

Not a weapon, not even a jack knife, was found on the men by the officers on the dock. When the vessel was emptied of its human cargo only nine empty cartridge shells could be found by the army of searching officers.

Uttered Threats.
"They paid no heed to these warnings and instead uttered threats and sent both Sheriff McTae and myself warning letters through the mail. Drastic action was necessary, and we made more arrests and escorted some of them out of the city limits, when one night, following a street meeting, eight workmen were set upon and beaten severely by I. W. W.'s. Several street riots followed, and Sheriff McTae then met with the Commercial Club and the proposal of organized resistance on the part of the citizens was taken up and adopted. Three hundred special deputized officials were organized and these formed a part of the body which met the steamer yesterday."

Eleven Seriously Hurt.
Seattle, Nov. 6.—Of the 31 men wounded on the steamer Veronia at Everett, 11 are seriously hurt and are at the city hospital here. It is believed all will recover. The other 20 are prisoners in the city jail, where their wounds, which are slight, were dressed by physicians.

Hubbard Mahler, secretary-treasurer of the Seattle branch of the I. W. W., says that the members of his organization are contending for the right of free speech, and that members of the organization have been persecuted in Everett since the time of the shingle weavers' strike last spring. James B. Thompson, national organizer of the I. W. W., and the authorized spokesman of the Seattle headquarters, left Seattle ten days ago and is supposed to be on his way to general headquarters at Chicago. He is a close friend of the general secretary-treasurer of the order, William D. Heywood, and was associated with Heywood in the great Lawrence strike a few years ago.

In Control.
Seattle, Nov. 6.—At the office of State Adjutant-General Thompson this morning the following statement was made:
"Our advices from Everett are that the local authorities are in control of the situation and that there is no need of militiamen."

Prosecutions Coming.
Everett, Nov. 6.—The city attorney and a representative of the county prosecutor went to Seattle last night to confer with city and county officials relative to prosecution of persons who took part in yesterday's battle.

Mayor D. D. Merrill has issued the following statement:

"Two months ago the I. W. W. commenced to hold meetings in this city, during which time they expressed some sympathy for the striking shingle weavers, and these talks were mild at first, but soon the speakers began to vilify officials and became very rabid in their utterances. I then gave orders that any such speakers be informed that such language would not be countenanced, and on their persistence ordered the arrest of several of them. I informed them that such inflammatory utterances would not be permitted and told these persons to leave the city and not come back."

Uttered Threats.
"They paid no heed to these warnings and instead uttered threats and sent both Sheriff McTae and myself warning letters through the mail. Drastic action was necessary, and we made more arrests and escorted some of them out of the city limits, when one night, following a street meeting, eight workmen were set upon and beaten severely by I. THE WAR'S PROGRESS

With the capture of Damloup village the French have pushed their lines a mile east of Fort Vaux, lending further emphasis to the enormity of the German defeat in the Verdun region.

On the Italian front Cadorna's progress along the Carso plateau dominating the approaches to Trieste continues. Unofficial advices report Italian troops as having penetrated to a point not more than eleven miles from Austria's chief seaport.

Teutonic progress on the Transylvanian front is too small to occasion any concern. It consists of slight advances among the mountains south of Rothenturm and Predal passes, and is altogether offset by Roumanian advances on the enemy's flanks.

The tragic happening at Everett yesterday furnishes an extraordinary commentary on the enforcement of law and order in the state in which it took place.

heavy work will commence when the Russians try to recapture the Constantza-Czernavoda line. In one vital respect, however, the Teutonic programme for the overrunning of Roumania and the turning of the left flank of the Russian main front, which was to be the corollary of it, has gone by the board.

MR. BOWSER'S EXCUSE.

In the Colonist yesterday Mr. Bowser attempted to justify his retention of office in the face of overwhelming defeat until the Deputy Provincial Secretary has officially declared the successful candidates elected, which cannot be done until the certificate of the soldiers' vote has been received from the Agent-General.

Mr. Bowser's contention is ridiculous in law and in fact. The constitution and election laws provide for his retirement immediately upon his defeat, and anybody else but the discredited, rejected leader of the discredited and rejected late government would have been prompt to recognize the condition and submit to it.

While the people of Canada have been repeatedly exhorted by the Finance Minister to be strictly economical in their private affairs during the period of the war, a letter from England to Mr. Archie Martin of Hamilton, published in the Times of that city, indicates how recklessly the resources of the public are being squandered by the militia department.

THE BATTLE OF EVERETT.

The tragic happening at Everett yesterday furnishes an extraordinary commentary on the enforcement of law and order in the state in which it took place.

headed by the sheriff, who ordered them to return whence they came. The reply to this was a fusillade of shots, which was returned by the posse. Result, seven fatalities and forty other cases of people more or less seriously wounded.

That these men should have been permitted to organize for this invasion of Everett at all strikes us as the most extraordinary feature of this extraordinary occurrence. They had made no secret of their preparations or their intentions. They openly boasted to the Seattle press that they were going to enter Everett in spite of the opposition of its citizens.

THE NEW KINGDOM.

The reconstitution of the kingdom of Poland under Hohenzollern and Hapsburg auspices is a development so grotesque that were it not for the tragedy which broods over that unhappy country the world would be moved by it to derisive laughter.

With the well-remembered trials and tribulations of their compatriots in Posen in mind it is very easy to imagine the feelings with which the Poles will learn of the new order.

While the people of Canada have been repeatedly exhorted by the Finance Minister to be strictly economical in their private affairs during the period of the war, a letter from England to Mr. Archie Martin of Hamilton, published in the Times of that city, indicates how recklessly the resources of the public are being squandered by the militia department.

Everett is not likely to appreciate the force of the slogan, "He kept us out of the war." That place suffered more from war yesterday than it would have

BETTER SEE ME.

Militia might get busy with some sort of explanation of this alleged serious condition of affairs.

The Kronprinz has asked the Hearst newspapers to inquire of the people of the United States why bloodthirsty war lords like King George V., Ferdinand of Roumania and Venizelos of Greece should keep him, a family man and a lover of peace, from his loved home during the sacred Christmas season!

Between the gentle ministrations of the Mexicans and the peculiar manifestations of the Germans, not to mention the doings of the far from domesticated I. W. W., just on the eve of an election, well may Woodrow Wilson exclaim, "The times are out of joint!"

Premier Bowser has taken refuge in a technically constructed dugout. He says he will hide there until the official returns are received by mail from England. Probably when the official returns arrive he will discover some technical reason for burrowing deeper into his subterranean work and defying the decision of the electorate.

Mr. Bowser and his friends do not seem to realize what struck them on September 14. Absolute power for years has completely overthrown their judgment. They act as if they regarded the overwhelmingly adverse vote of the people of British Columbia as only a nightmare.

Sixty-three cases of supplies have been forwarded during the month and a large shipment is ready packed for immediate dispatch. It will interest the workers to learn that from henceforth the shipments from this branch are allowed to go direct to Halifax, with no delay in Toronto, thus ensuring the arrival of the work in the quickest possible time for transport. Several new volunteers have been welcomed in the work room, and many more will be required if the output is to meet Victoria's share of the average needed for winter, and the increased calls. In the Staples district alone (in France), there are 30,000 hospital beds, and Boulogne is described as "one vast hospital." To these places the worst cases are sent from the battle front, and all need an almost daily supply of clothing and comforts. This is of course only one item "from the many thousand hospital centres" where soldiers gather for help, comfort and renewed strength, and it is surely certain that the women of this empire will see to it that none lack an article which only costs the time and trouble to make.

DUNCAN HOSPITAL

Report is Given at Semi-Annual Meeting of King's Daughters.

An interesting report of the good work which is being done in the King's Daughters' Hospital at Duncan was given at the semi-annual meeting of the provincial executive held at Vancouver, Miss Leitch, the provincial president, in the chair. There was a good representation of the members present, Vancouver, Victoria, Cowichan and Surrey being represented. The report of the Duncan hospital showed that this institution, which has a matron, four nurses and two probationers, is caring for a constantly increasing number of patients from the district, one of the most recent interesting cases being that of "Tony," the boy-hero of the panther fight at Lake Cowichan. A vote of sympathy was passed to Miss Maitland-Dougal, daughter of the late F. Maitland-Dougal, president of the Duncan hospital board, whose death recently is felt as a distinct loss by those who were his colleagues. Another vote of sympathy passed by the meeting was to Mrs. George Shaw, of Golden, who had suffered severe bereavement since the last annual meeting.

Home" held recently was read, this showing that the sum of $17 had been cleared for the rest-room work. Thanks were expressed to all the artists who had helped by lending their services as well as to those who had sent gifts of cake, etc., for the entertainment. It was hoped that the public would support the one or two entertainments that were being planned as a source of income for the work of the order. Thanks were expressed to Mrs. George Powell, Menzies-street, and to David Spencer, Ltd., for gifts of cash during the month.

REPORTS COMPLETION OF CONDUIT SYSTEM

Underground Telephone Installation Downtown; In Progress Some Years

The completion of the underground conduit system by the B. C. Telephone Company, to which notice has been called by the request for the issuance of the final certificate, draws attention to a project which has been in hand in the form of negotiation and construction for six years. It has involved a great deal of negotiation and municipal legislation, the principal measure being the agreement of August 4, 1910, concerning the removal of poles and overhead wires in the downtown district, such agreement being set out in a by-law, the underground telephone by-law of 1911. The latter having been approved by the ratepayers, was finally adopted in January of that year. A further by-law was passed by the council July 8, 1912, and there is also the agreement of March 30, 1915, which was ratified by the legislature at the last session. If the certificate is issued on approval of the undertaking as completed, the city is to deliver the final $25,000 of debentures of the $100,000 worth of debentures provided for in the original by-law of 1910, approved by the ratepayers. Prior to the discussions which took place in the summer of 1914, the city had paid $50,000 of debentures under the original by-law, and the third instalment of $5,000 was to be delivered to the company on the fulfillment of last year's agreement. Thus if the officials report favorably on the company's application, the balance is deliverable by the city to the company now. Under the supplementary agreement, which has now binding force upon both parties since ratification by the legislature, the city has granted to the company the exclusive use for a period of 99 years of the conduits constructed by the city under the streets or portions of streets following: Government street north, Cormorant to Hillside;

Government street south, Belleville to Michigan; Blanshard street, Cormorant to Hillside; Hillside avenue, Blanshard to Blackwood; Johnson street, Blanshard to Camosun; Camosun street, Yates and Pandora; Yates street, Comosun to Fort street; Fort street, Pandora to Fowl Bay road. The city reserves the right in the list of streets mentioned to the use of one duct in the conduits for carrying wires for fire alarm and police patrol purposes. The conduits are to continue to be the property of the city, but the apparatus therein is to belong to the company. The cost of maintenance is to be borne by the company. Should the company abandon the use of the conduits, liability for maintenance will terminate.

The area which was defined as the scope of operations was to be that bounded by the following streets: Wharf, Humboldt, Douglas, Burdett, Blanshard, Cormorant, Store and Johnson streets, and also on Fort street, from Douglas street to Cook street, and Yates street from Douglas street to Quadra street. The principle was afterwards extended to other streets, as will be noted by the list given above. That conduit on Esplanade street, from Douglas to Cook, is the section where the question has arisen as to the right of the telephone company to transfer its abandoned poles to the B. C. Electric railway, as an alternative proposal to which it is now suggested that the telephone company should transfer them to the city, and the city pass them over to the street railway company.

The difficulties which were anticipated with regard to securing rights-of-way and easements over and through private property within the area mentioned has not proved as serious as was anticipated. Most of the property owners have shown a willingness to grant the necessary easements under a simple form of conveyance, which will not render any encumbrance on the property. Anticipating that expense would be involved in the supplementary agreement of last year, it was arranged that the company would pay half the expenses incurred in obtaining these easements, but as already explained, the difficulty was more apparent than real, and negotiations with property owners have been concluded with a minimum of friction.

Although not an essential portion of the telephone conduit agreement, the city electrician has been working energetically to secure the gradual removal of poles, and where that could be done, to induce the companies to use steel instead of wooden ones. The outcome, supplementary to the subject matter mentioned above, has resulted in the withdrawal of a considerable number of poles on the downtown streets.

In a letter received recently the issue had been raised as to how long distance telephone wires are to be carried, whether they could also pass in conduit through the business district. This point is now the subject of report from the electric light committee. From a newspaper—They would strain at a goat and swallow a canal.

"Arnim paragraphs" would gain a new meaning in Germany if the people could only see General Six van Arnim's soubri report. It is the name given to clauses of the law of 1876 imposing penalties upon foreign officials who disclose documents or diplomats who disobeyed orders. Bismarck was impelled to this measure by his struggle with Count (Harry) von Arnim, whose revelations were scarcely less sensational than his present namesake's. As ambassador at Paris he persisted in opposing the republic in defiance of Bismarck's policy. Afterwards he published through a Vienna paper dispatches to show that as minister at Rome he had been wiser about the Vatican council than Bismarck. He was sentenced to three months' imprisonment, increased on appeal to nine months, for holding up Paris embassy papers, fed the country and was sentenced in exile to five years' penal servitude for an anti-Bismarck pamphlet.—London Chronicle. Magistrat—"You are accused of attempting to rob a pedestrian at 2 o'clock this morning. What have you to say in your own behalf?" Prisoner—"I am not guilty, your worship; I can prove a lady." Magistrat—"Well, call it what you like, but my wife will swear that I was walking the floor with the baby at the hour mentioned in the charge." Mackenzie's Sausages are the best.

PANTAGES DANCERS OFFER UNUSUAL ACT

Wild, Wild Music, Elaborate Scenery and Animal Circus Features of Bill

The new bill which opens at Pantages with the matinee this afternoon divides headline honors between what is said to be the most pleasing and entertaining animal act in vaudeville and a wonderful Russian dancing divertissement. There are four other acts of outstanding entertaining ability and another film of Charlie Chaplin's riotous fun.

Schep's dog, pony and monkey circus is a well-known attraction in the West, which plays each time to a greater popularity. This will be a performance which will delight the children, but it is said to be even more popular with the grown-ups of the audience. There are four ponies, four monkeys and twelve dogs, all well trained, and the whole act is wonderfully staged. The tricks of the animals are presented with such precision, neatness and speed as has not been often seen in acts of this class. A special children's matinee will be held for children on Saturday.

W. Horelik presents a large company of expert dancers in a dancing divertissement entitled "In a Gypsy Camp." This organization comes from the Imperial Opera House of Petrograd, and combines the ballet which belongs to the Italian traditions, as well as the apparently untamed grace and mad pleasure of the dance of the peasant Slav. The act is given in pantomime.

Frear, Bissett and Frear are three versatile young men in a comedy juggling act that is as novel as it is amusing. The act opens with a scene showing the exterior of a baseball park; after a little comedy, the men dressed as players, enter the park and the latter part of the offering is a scene within a park.

Howard and Fields' Dining Car Minstrels is a famous melange of music and comedy wherein the scene takes place in a diner, the interlocutor being impersonated by a man who is supposed to come into the car for his dinner. The comedy is in the hands of the waiters and the fun they are able to extract from the familiar situation may possibly be imagined.

Santucci, accordionist, is an artist of rare ability, as shown by his popularity in the East. From his pleasing personality, wonderful technique and attractive stage presence, is due his success. To Santucci, difficult grand opera selections are as easy as the popular "rag" of the day. Oscar Lee has made a reputation on this coast as a character singer. He is said to be possessed of a very fine tenor voice and to be an exceptionally good yodeler.

While waiting for the release of "The Shielding Shadow," described as the greatest motion picture serial yet filmed, which will begin a run of fifteen weeks at the Pantages November 20, two more Chaplin comedies will be shown. This week's offering is one of the best he has ever produced, called "Police."

The second show audience on Tuesday night are promised an especially joyous treat at the close of the bill. There are 12 men on this week's bill, and they are divided in two groups on the results of the United States presidential election. The losing six have agreed to roll peanuts across the stage in front of the audience, using toothpicks in their mouths as the propelling force. The returns of the election will be bulletined between the acts during the evening.

LIONEL BARRYMORE COMING TO DOMINION

The magic of the Barrymore name is enough to attract attention anywhere and now that this famous family of theatrical stars has gone into motion pictures, the productions in which the individual members of this remarkably talented family appear are in great demand all over the country. Lionel Barrymore, one of the foremost dramatic actors of the stage or screen, will make his first appearance in pictures here at the Dominion theatre on Thursday, Friday and Saturday in the Metro production, "A Yellow Streak."

The story tells how a wronged and ruined man, a helpless atom in the scheme of human life, is brought to the verge of suicide by forces over which he has not the slightest control. How he is saved through rescuing a girl, another despairing atom like himself, bent on a similar mission, their parting without seeing the other's face, their meeting without recognition after many strange adventures in the west, their romance, the man's regeneration and finally, the strange chance which identified them to each other, is an inspiring human document, brimming with startling and novel situations, as wholesome as it is absorbing in its heart interest.

Klisura, in Albania, now occupied by the Italians, is notable as one of the few towns in the Balkans of which the population is almost entirely Vlach. Vlach and Italians should get on pretty well together; for, whatever may be the precise relationship between Vlach and Roumanians, their claims to Latin origin are equally strong. The Vlach call themselves Armani (Romans), and Vlach, or Wallach, seems to be identical with Wlochy, the Polish word for Italian. The Vlach language may be described as Latin of sorts with a strong dash of Greek, just as Roumanian is similar Latin permeated with Slav words.—London Chronicle.

SCHPEP'S ANIMAL CIRCUS AT PANTAGES THEATRE THIS WEEK

"ALADDIN" COMING TO PRINCESS THEATRE

F. Stuart-Whyte's Production Will Be Seen Here Next Week

F. Stuart-Whyte's production of "Aladdin," which comes to the Princess theatre on Nov. 13 for one week, is making a great hit on its western tour, as the following clipping from the Edmonton Bulletin will show:

"Aladdin and His Wonderful Lamp," yesterday-awakened Edmontonians to what they have missed in not having often with them the pantomime that at certain seasons of the year brings such an amount of pleasure into the lives of old and young in the Old Country. Beautiful scenery, beautiful costumes and tuneful music satisfy the eye with a variety of coloring as charming as in good taste, and provide a spectacle delightfully pleasing. But excellent as the setting it would not make the pantomime. Even the most resplendent scenic effects without that play of wit and humor, that holding the mirror up to nature if not as the Bard of Avon meant it, that makes "the play the thing," would be "stale and unprofitable" to those who came to be amused and entertained.

"What a big hearty laugh echoed through the theatre yesterday! One could not help doing it; the microbe was in the air. Whether it emanated from the Widow Twankey, General Sam Fuzz, the Mad Magician, or The Vizier we have all met them and laughed at them, and with them before—they were there to make us laugh and we had to do it for them. It was pure unalloyed fun; with no drawbacks nor any mental reservations whatsoever. The fun was both in song and story and topical allusion. Not only is the pantomime up-to-date in this, but one has not very far to seek to discover a similitude between some of the distinguished personages of "his pomposity," the emperor's entourage and some of the politicians of this fair land to-day.

Viewing the production from the musical standpoint one has to extend the same praise. There are some really pretty lyrics. The extravagance is carried over five scenes and the ensemble is strikingly effective in the finale of the first and last. The last follows a tableau that arouses the enthusiasm of the house, preceded as it is by Miss Sara Clinton, who, singing and acting well the part of Aladdin, thrills the audience with her descriptive rendering of "Somewhere in France."

It is called the "March of the Allies," introducing the co-partners, in national costume of the Mother Land, with Canada as the central figure, and introducing "Britannia," with trident and shield, before the fall of the curtain to the accompaniment of the stirring strains of the song.

The comedians are Billy Oswald, "General Sam"; Victor Dyer, "The Vizier"; J. V. Barrett-Lennard, the magician, and Harry Howard, "The Widow Twankey." The lyrics are by F. Stuart-Whyte who presents the pantomime, and the music by Pierre Bayard, C. V. Hamilton and Sydney Blythe, while the scenery is by Edgar Mackie, late of Drury Lane theatre. The production is given under the musical direction of Miss Margaret Marion, who, at the piano, plays and conducts with the intelligence and power of the expert.

If Your Throat is Husky, Catarrh May Be Starting

A weak or irritated throat is the first step towards Catarrh. Every thing depends on your remedy. A cough mixture slips quickly over the weak spots, drops into the stomach and does little but harm digestion. It's altogether different with Catarrhoxone—it cures because it gets right to the trouble. You inhale Catarrhoxone, breathe in the vapor of the healing balsams that strengthen and restore the weak throat tissues. You'll never have colds or coughs. Throat trouble and catarrh will disappear with the use of Catarrhoxone. Get the large dollar outfit which includes the inhaler, it lasts two months and is guaranteed to cure. Smaller sizes, 25c and 50c, sold everywhere.

"Somehow I can never think of a bright thing to say until the occasion has gone by." "Same here. My trains of thought are always late, too."

"What's this about your telling around that I had a big head?" "There's nothing in it."

"THE COMEBACK" AT DOMINION THEATRE

Harold Lockwood and May Allison Appear for First Half of Week

Harold Lockwood and May Allison, who will be remembered for their highly successful appearance at the Dominion a few weeks ago in the metro feature entitled "A River of Romance," will be seen again in their latest production, "The Comeback."

"The Comeback" is a strong story of how a dissipated young man, just out of college, sees the error of his ways and goes to the northern Maine woods, where he becomes a real man and redeems himself. There is an interesting and delightful story running through the feature shown with a wealth of beautiful photography. The correct atmosphere and big settings have been secured, as no cost was spared to attain this object. F. J. Balshofer who not only wrote but directed the production, took his company of players to Maine, where they pitched camp in a logging camp along Dead River, where scores of real woodsmen were used in making the picture. One of the most realistic scenes of "The Comeback" is a realistic fight in the snow which Mr. Lockwood has with the bully of the camp. Mr. Lockwood and Miss Allison are also seen in a perilous expedition over a mountain trail on snowshoes, an accomplishment they were obliged to learn for this production. "The Comeback" will be presented at the Dominion to-day, Tuesday and Wednesday.

Wonderful Bilious Remedy Actually Prevents Attacks

There are two great causes of biliousness—they are constipation and defective liver action.

When Dr. Hamilton's Pills are taken, they are not only correct constipated bowels, but act upon the liver as well. Quite unlike ordinary medicines which purge and give temporary relief, Dr. Hamilton's Pills remove the conditions which cause biliousness, and thus permanent cures are effected. No person who occasionally uses Dr. Hamilton's Pills will ever suffer from the headache, bad stomach or bilious complaint. Get a 25c box to-day.

"John, your old hat is getting shabby." "Yes, I think I'll have to buy a new one." "Oh, I wouldn't spend my own money for it, if I were you. Can't you find somebody who will let you a hat against a sure thing?"

Dasher—How did you enjoy your vacation? Jerome—Fine; the hotel where I put up didn't seem like a strange place at all. It had all the discomforts of home.—Life.

FAMOUS DANGERS AT VARIETY THEATRE

Maurice and Florence Walton in Photoplay, "The Quest of Life"

Maurice and Florence Walton, who come to the Variety theatre to-day, to-morrow and Wednesday in the Famous Players' production, "The Quest of Life," have established the title of "the greatest dancers in the world." They have appeared in the largest cities in Europe, the United States and South America and on every occasion have taken their audiences by storm. It was Maurice who introduced the Argentine Tango to Europe and America after he had studied it in South America. The celebrated Apache Dance, which is performed in "The Quest of Life," was also created by Maurice.

"The Quest of Life," however, is not merely a dancing picture. It is a dramatic story of a girl of lowly parentage who is ambitious for her future. Just as she seems about to realize her dreams, the doctor declares that she has but one more year to live. In despair, she determines to see as much of life as she can in that year. She is chosen to do the Dance of Death, with Maurice Bretton, a celebrated dancer, at a big social function, and makes a hit. They are engaged by a theatrical manager and score again on the stage, but Mapleton, the manager, begins to cast covetous eyes on Ellen. The girl's health breaks under the strain and Maurice secretly sends her to a sanitarium, for which act of kindness Mapleton later assumes credit. A series of dramatic situations lead to the discovery of the truth, however, and Mapleton retires from the competition for the heart of Ellen.

"The Quest of Life" is adapted from the play by Edmund Goulding and Gabriel Balthazar, and is one of the best productions which the Famous Players Film Co. have released on the Paramount programme.

"REGGIE MIXES IN" AT THE COLUMBIA

Douglas Fairbanks Fits Leading Role Like Hand in a Glove

Douglas Fairbanks has a part in the play "Reggie Mixes In," which is to be shown at the Columbia for the first three days of this week that must have been specially cast for him. He fits into the role of the fashionable but athletic young idler about town like a hand into a perfect glove.

Reggie has a fiancee who does not love him nearly as much as she does his money. This naturally angers Reggie, and at times he takes some spins in his automobile. On one such occasion he comes upon a poor little waif in the park, and takes her to her home in the slums. There he comes upon the girl of his choice. She is Agnes, the girl of the slums. She sings in a cheap cabaret because of dire necessity.

Eventually Reggie is enabled to withdraw from the enangling alliance with the fair Dorothy, much to that lady's regret. And now that he is free to carry his affections to whomsoever he will, Reggie lays his love at the feet of Agnes. And she does not spurn him.

A gang leader, one Tony Bernard, sets his heart upon Agnes. He sends one of his henchmen to get her, but Reggie comes upon the scene in time and beats the henchman off. Then Bernard sends a whole gang of men after the girl, but Reggie defeats them one by one. Well, he has learned to box and wrestle at college.

Finally Tony Bernard comes upon the scene himself, and promises that if he fails to beat Reggie he will leave Agnes alone. Reggie is victorious, after a desperate hand-to-hand fight, and of course after that there is nothing to it but a wedding ceremony.

The comedy for the week is "Hearts and Sparks," and it is billed as one of the best that has been screened for some time. All of the actors and actresses are well known, the stage settings and scenic effects are unusually good.

A negro who had an injured head entered a doctor's office. "Hello, Sam! Got cut again, I see?" "Yes, sah! I done get carved up with a razor, doc." "Why don't you keep out of bad company?" said the physician, after he had dressed the wound. "Deed I'd like to, doc, but I ain't got 'nuff money to git a divorce."

PROPOSED CHANGES IN VANCOUVER CHARTER

Majority of Amendments Are Adopted by the City Council

The Vancouver city council is considering a number of charter amendments and most of the 30 proposed additions have been adopted. Several which have been laid over will receive attention to-morrow. It has been decided to ask the government for charter amendments:

To place the control of the police under a commission consisting of a county court judge, police magistrate and the mayor, and to give the council greater control over police finances if possible. Ald. McIntosh, who introduced this resolution, stated that he aimed to remove the business of the police commission out of all connection with politics, and said that the suggested form of the commission met with the approval of Police Chief MacLennan.

To give the council the right to submit a plebiscite to the voters on any question involving the expenditure of money to ratepayers only.

To enable the council to provide for collection of taxes by installments from any person.

To give the council power to regulate the installation and ventilation of gas fixtures.

To extend the period for redeeming property after a tax sale from one to two years.

To give the city power to license and regulate apartment houses.

To restrict laundries and manufactories in residential districts.

To allow soldiers' wives to vote for soldiers at the front.

To enable the city to sell all property subject to tax sale up to the end of the year prior to the sale, providing, however, that all persons paying their taxes due two years before such a sale shall have the right to have that property withdrawn from the tax sale.

To shift the burden of proof in infractions of the by-law governing the conveyance of foodstuffs to persons charged with offences under the by-law.

To raise by debentures the sum of $5,000,000 in yearly installments of $1,000,000 each for the purpose of relieving taxation during the next five years—from 1917 to 1921 inclusive—by money by-laws voted on by the electors each year.

To allow the statements of applicants for the voters' list to be made before a notary public and by declaration.

To tax fire, life, accident, marine and all other insurance companies doing business in the city.

Gnr. Harry Austin, Killed on October 10, Preferred to Be in Thick of Fight

Further particulars of the manner in which Gnr. Harry Austin, who left Victoria last February under Capt. C. W. Birch and who met his death on Oct. 11 in France, have been received in a letter from Aubrey Kent, of the Canadian Field Artillery, who is in France and has made inquiries on behalf of the relatives.

Gnr. Austin joined the 37th Battery under Capt. Shaw some time ago. He had been on the headquarters staff of the 3rd Division with a good position. However, he intimated to friends that he could do office work at any time, and would like to get into a battery. The night he was killed, Oct. 10, he was acting as brakeman on an ammunition wagon, taking ammunition to the guns.

"It was some time early in the evening," writes Lieut. Kept. "The traffic being very heavy at this time and the roads narrow and in bad shape, the column got jammed and could not move in any direction for about an hour and a half. During this time they were shelled, and lost a couple of horses killed and one or two wounded. I talked with Capt. Young, in charge of the column, and he said Austin was of great assistance during this time, taking in charge a couple of horses which had been wounded, one of which subsequently was shot. The facts of his death are rather vague so far. He was last seen on one of the vehicles by Capt. Young. His wagon was a little in advance of the remainder of the column, and mixed up with some other traffic. Just as the column was moving off a shell burst a little ahead, but it was not until some time later that Austin was reported missing—in fact when the column returned to the wagon lines. We thought it possible he may have lost his way or been wounded and taken to a dressing station, but this morning he was reported killed. It is needless to say that everyone who knew him was very sorry to hear of his death."

Gnr. Austin had many friends in Victoria, being one of the best known members of the J. B. A. and other athletic clubs. He was a native son, and a barrister by profession.

C. Electric Railway Company. He graduated from Kingston aviation school about a year ago and since joining the flying corps has been wounded twice. His father, John P. Brennan has three brothers, one being manager of the bank of Nova Scotia at Dalhousie, another a member of a Nova Scotia regiment and the third living at the family home at North Sydney.

MORE LIVES GIVEN IN EMPIRE'S DEFENCE

Several Victorians' Names Appear in Recent Casualty Lists

The names of several more men known in Victoria are found in the recent casualty lists. A cable message has been received by Rev. E. G. Miller and Mrs. Miller stating that Pte. Philip Woolfit, for many years a frequent guest at their home, had died of wounds received about three weeks ago while fighting in France. Pte. Woolfit, who was the eldest son of Wm. Woolfit, Newark-on-Trent, England, was a native of that town, where his parents still live. He came out to this country about seven years ago, when about 15 years of age, and was one of the choir boys at St. Barnabas church for some time. Latterly he went to Edmonton to join an uncle who was engaged in surveying, but returned to Victoria to enlist with the 88th Battalion, with which unit he went overseas. He transferred to the bombing section of the 43rd Battalion. News that he was wounded had been received here, but it was supposed that he was progressing satisfactorily toward recovery until the message telling of his death arrived. He passed away on November 1. Pte. Howard Wilberforce McNeill, son of ex-Alderman A. B. McNeill, of this city, has been wounded in the leg and arm and is now in the No. 14 General hospital, Wimereux, France, to which he was committed October 25. He is a native son, 21 years of age. Educated here at the Boys' Central and High schools, he, during a short residence in Vancouver, was a member of the Seaford Cadets, holding the rank of Sgt.-Major. Shortly after the war broke out he joined the Gordon Highlanders and transferred to the Western Scots soon after that unit was organized. In the same battalion with him in France was his brother, J. R. McNeill, who was dispatcher for the company. Pte. Howard McNeill was engaged in the engineering department of the city before joining the overseas forces. A telegram was received by his father yesterday afternoon telling of the casualty.

Pte. Gordon Anderson, who is reported wounded, was well known in this city, where he was employed in the contracting firm of Sgt.-Major Fred Dawson, who has just returned from the front. He is the son of George Anderson, a rancher of Kitimat, and his sister, Miss Muriel Anderson, is a member of the next graduating class at the Royal Jubilee hospital. He tried to join one of the units in this city but was turned down as physically unfit. Later he joined up at Prince Rupert and was accepted.

Lieut. Hugh Morton G. Brickman, of the Scottish Rifles, died of wounds received on October 1. A son of Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Brickman, of Ivergarny, Scotland, Lieut. Brickman came to the coast about seven years ago. He was first employed by A. Leakey, of Somers, then by Capt. Galsford, of Westholme, and latterly entered into business for himself at this place. He went to England last year with a view to enlisting, and secured a commission in the Royal Garrison Artillery. Later he was transferred to the Scottish Rifles and distinguished himself by his ability in trench mortar battery work. He was twenty-seven years of age, and married.

Pte. Joseph Gordon Steele, of the 16th Battalion, Canadian Scottish, met his death on October 8. Pte. Steele was the son of Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Steele, of Glyn Station. He enlisted at Prince Rupert; and came to Victoria with a detachment from that place which joined the 80th Battalion. He was transferred to the 16th Battalion, Canadian Scottish, and sent to France, being wounded the first time on April 24, 1915, at Ypres. Three younger brothers and a step-brother, Gur. W. B. Neville, are serving with the Canadian forces. Pte. Steele was an engineer by calling, and worked at one time for the Granby Smelter, Anxox. He also worked for Mr. Simmons at one time. Pte. R. S. Deans, of the 3rd Canadian Pioneers, was killed on September 29. A native of Cardiff, Wales, where his parents and other relatives are still living, Pte. Deans was 25 years of age. He came to this country about six years ago, and for some time was on the Restorer, being well known among seamen of this coast. His home in Victoria was at 474 Credde street, Esquimalt.

Pte. Herbert Levings, a son of A. E. Levings, of Victoria, is listed in the October 4 casualty list as missing. Pte. Levings left with the 88th Battalion, and a letter from a friend, Pte. A. E. Jones, has reported his death. He was in the job department of the Colonist Printing and Publishing Company at one time, and although only 18 years of age had been employed at Penderay's, Messrs. E. G. Prior & Co.'s, and the Underwood Typewriter Company. His mother died a few weeks before the departure of the 88th for England.
